The monkey bars for adults are designed to combine many outdoor exercises into one single piece of equipment. Possible exercises include leg raises, dips, low press ups, pull up and chin ups.

The equipment can be installed in a narrow strip in a garden, park or school. Built using robust materials such as solid oak and stainless steel the monkey bar for adults is a perfect piece of commercial outdoor exercise equipment with little maintenance required. With no moving parts, this the monkey bar is super durable and tough enough for even the pro's. The attractive appearance of polished stainless steel makes it look great in any environment. Perfect for adults and older kids to train on out in the fresh air.
